If YOU expect to have thrifty stock throughout the winter season, you must provide for their welfare now. Rundown animals need a good tonic such as Hess' Stock Tonic. This is a modern stock remedy and as near perfect as veterinary science makes possible. It has a tonic effect on all of the vital organs and acts as a preventive and cure for all of the ordinary diseases of stock. Hess' Poultry Panacea will keep up the vitality of your entire flock during cold weather and will cause the hens to be regular egg producers at this season when prices are high.

B. F. Murrell Dies Unexpectedly

The community was saddened this morning, Thursday, October 5, when announcement was made of the sudden death at his home just west of town of B. F. Murrell, who has long been one of the county's most prominent men.

Mr. Murrell has been in poor health for several months, but has been about his office attending to his business most of the time, and his illness was not taken to be serious. He was in town Wednesday, and Thursday morning went to the field where hands were at work and was stricken there and died before reaching the house. Doctors summoned immediately say that his death was caused by heart troubles.

Deceased was for 24 years trustee of Fayette county and had the reputation in the county and the state of being one of the best trustees in the state. He was one of the most successful business men of this part of the state and one of this county's largest landowners. Since retiring from the office of trustee he has conducted a large fire insurance business here and this with his lands made him a busy man. He was a vice-president and director of the Fayette County Bank and one of the institutions best friends and a large stockholder.

He leaves his widow and the following children: Mrs. Parrot of Cordova, Mrs. Kipp of Nashville, Mrs. D. M. Nelms of Oakland, Mrs. R. L. Jones of this place, Ed Murrell of Chattanooga, Kader Murrell of Birmingham, Jeff and Horton Murrell and Misses Lucy, and Janie Murrell and James Robert and Willie who were at home.

At this writing a few hours after his death Thursday funeral arrangements have not been announced.

Floterial Convention Called.

As floterial committeeman for Fayette county, I hereby call a mass convention to be held in the circuit court room in Somerville on Monday, October 9, at 2:30 p. m. for the purpose of nominating a candidate for representative from the counties of Fayette and Shelby in the next General Assembly of Tennessee. All democrats in the county have a right to attend this convention and vote therein.

W. T. LOGGINS
Floterial Committeeman.

The floterial committeeman for Fayette county has been notified by Mayor Ashcroft of Memphis and Hon. T. R. Winfield, chairman of a sub-committee from the Shelby county democratic executive committee, that Fayette county will be accorded the privilege of naming the democratic candidate for floterial representative in the next General Assembly of the state, and the above call is made for the purpose of giving democrats over the county an opportunity of expressing their wishes as to whom they will have to represent them.

Since 1907 Shelby county has not permitted this county to name the floterial representative, and when the new order of things was instituted in Shelby county and Mayor Ashcroft was named as the head of the city government there it was thought that he and the other democrats there would give Fayette county a hearing on the matter of the floterial representative. Several visits were made by the committeeman of this county to the mayor and other leading dem-

County Court in Quarterly Session

The county court of Fayette county met in regular quarterly session at the court house on last Tuesday, with Hon. W. G. Shelton, chairman, presiding, and Clerk C. W. Crawford and Sheriff Jordan at their places. There were present the following justices: Wyatt Wilkinson, W. M. Pierce, D. C. Boyd, and W. C. Reeves, A. S. Thompson, J. S. Perry, J. C. Hunter, J. A. Johnston, J. A. McNabb, A. T. Sanders, J. C. Rice, J. T. Moore, W. G. Shelton, T. M. Ross, E. W. Dunn, V. R. Neal, R. C. Bobbitt, E. M. Pierson, H. T. Ballard, J. J. Steger, H. F. Bryant, J. A. Summers, W. H. Morrow and P. A. Downey.

The miscellaneous business was rather shorter than usual, but the docket was a very long one, having nearly one hundred items. The court heard reports from several committees, including a committee which drafted resolutions on the death of Esq. J. H. Garnett, which resolutions were unanimously adopted and are published in this issue of The Falcon.

A report prepared by Trustee Reames showed the county to have outstanding warrants unpaid which made the county about $1000 overdrawn, this not counting the notes outstanding and for which there is a special sinking fund. The school fund shows a balance of about five thousand dollars to its credit and the several road funds show a total credit of about one thousand dollars. The finances of the county are in excellent shape, and altho the docket of this court was long it did not carry any large appropriacrats there and finally on Monday of this week Mayor Ashcroft called the committeeman from this county over telephone and assured him that he and the democrats of Shelby county wanted to do fairly by the democrats of Fayette county and suggested that a mass convention be called here for the purpose of selecting a candidate from this county, and promised that the nominee chosen by this county would have the endorsement of the Shelby county convention when it meets at an early date. The mayor and Mr. Winfield, acting for the powers that be in democratic matters in Shelby county will have the thanks of Fayette county democrats for showing this consideration for this county which it has long been felt we needed.

Up to the present time there is but one announced candidate for floterial representative in this county, tho several other names have been mentioned in discussing the matter. The one announced candidate is H. P. Hobson, former chairman of the county court of this county.

tions that will swell the debts of the county. In fact, considering the number of items included in the long docket, the appropriations were below the average for a term of the court.

The application for $500 to continue the work of the farm demonstration agent for next year was denied by the court, which means that the work must be discontinued unless some other way is found to raise money. There will be many friends of the demonstration work in the county who will regret that this appropriation was not granted, and The Falcon is sincere in its belief that the court made a mistake, tho a number of justices who voted against it discussed the matter just as frankly from the other side as we could from ours.

The usual number of bridges, culverts, small levees, etc., were ordered built and others paid for.

It was one of the most quiet meetings of the court held in recent years, there being few arguments or lengthy discussions and most measures being of the usual kind provoked little difference of opinions and were disposed of quickly.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT TO THE MEMORY OF ESQ. J. H. GARNETT.

We, your committee appointed at the July Term of Court, submit the following report: Whereas the All Wise Father has removed from us one of our oldest and most valued members, J. H. Garnett, and while we humbly submit to His mighty decree, we deeply deplore the loss to the Court of a useful and time tried member, to the bereaved family a kind and loving husband and father, to the church a faithful and efficient servant and to the County one of its best citizens: Therefore, Be it resolved, That we offer our heart-felt sympathy to the family and friends of our respected brother, That these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of our Court, Sanders.
